The Land of Kush restaurant has taken the 1st floor retail space at 840 N. Eutaw Street in Baltimore, a 1,200 square foot location previously operated as a deli and café.

The listing broker on the space was Jeremy Landsman with JBL Real Estate, LLC. The building owner is Angelita Dela Cuesta. Landsman also served as the tenant's broker on this deal.

The Land of Kush promotes "ultimate" vegetarian cuisine, which is derived from cultures all over the world, to a diversified vegan, vegetarian, and health conscious market. Featured entrees include soy rib tips, simmered in a homemade barbecue sauce and soy curry chicken with a mild spicy flavor; collared greens seasoned with smoke tofu and candied yams sweetened with agave, which doubles as a diabetic-friendly food. The Grand Opening is scheduled for July.
